

New Industry For Carrier Mills

Chicago Firm Moving Into O'Keefe Building

Hope to Employ
200-300 Persons
Within a Year

Carrier Mills is getting a factory which may employ more than 200 persons in a year or year and a half, it was announced in Chicago by the operators.

The industry is the Violetta Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Moses Koster. They revealed they are moving into the O'Keefe building on Route 45 at Carrier Mills and hope to be in operation around Sept. 1.

A telephone conversation with Mrs. Koster at Chicago revealed that the factory manufactures brassieres, corsets, girdles and garter belts.

She said that about 20 would be employed at the factory at the outset, that a few would be added as they are trained and that in a year or a year and a half, it was hoped that the factory would employ between 200 and 300.

A part of the building, owned by Clyde O'Keefe and formerly the structure housing the O'Keefe Distributing Co., will be used at first, with the rest available when needed.

Mrs. Koster said they are moving their entire operation to Carrier Mills from Chicago.

The Koster family has rented the residence of Robert Whitney, who is moving to Harrisburg. Mrs. Koster and daughter, Betty, are designers, it was learned.

Mr. and Mrs. Koster came into Saline county Saturday and told people with whom they talked that they had been interested in locating in southern Illinois, that they were more impressed when they read the articles in the Chicago Daily News by Charles Cleveland, which publicized the area in a very favorable light.

They decided upon the O'Keefe building, which has 12,000 feet of floor space available.

It was learned that the Koster family formerly operated a factory and two retail outlets in Amsterdam, Holland, but sold out and started anew in Chicago four or five years ago.

38 Points in County

County Brochures Exchanged At Shawnee Hills Ass'n Meeting

County brochures were exchanged at the August meeting of the Shawnee Hills Recreation Association meeting held Monday night at Metropolis and a look at the Saline county guide map reveals that 38 points of interest are listed, with many of them illustrated.

These nearly two-score attractions are contained in a map of all six counties comprising the association, and Saline county points shown are Stone Fort, Garden of the Gods, Stone Face, Cave Hill, Upheaval at Horseshoe, Eldorado Art Center, Lake Harrisburg and Eldorado reservoir.

A history of Saline county also is included in the brochure.

Don Blair, superintendent of the Wabash Memorial bridge between New Haven, Ill., and Mt. Vernon, Ind., was present to distribute a folder showing routes leading to this bridge with a lot of attention paid to southern Illinois.

Mr. Blair, in remarks made to the group, said he had learned that a lot of persons close to southern Illinois' main attractions were not a bit familiar with the points of interest.

The association passed a resolution recommending that the state take action on restoring the bank building and Posey building in Old Shawneetown. Rep. Gordon Kerr of Brookport, who was at the meeting, said he would inquire about the situation in Springfield.

Program chairman was Vice President Ray Mittendorf of Metropolis and other items on the program included:

William H. Farley of Harrisburg told of the 1957 Ozark tour and Louis Aaron, also of Harrisburg, reported on the chartered tour made by the Randolph County Historical society, along with members of the Saline county society, into Gallatin county Sunday.

Better roads into the Garden of the Gods was discussed.

Dr. George Wilson of the Illinois State Geological Survey announced a booklet on geological attractions of southern Illinois should be ready for the November meeting.

Rex Karnes of Southern Illinois University said an Indian lore booklet is now in the hands of an editorial board and that favorable action was expected.

Next meeting will be in Saline county Sept. 16.

To Tear Down Old Building

Another vacant, dilapidated structure in Harrisburg is scheduled to be torn down, Fire Chief L. G. Martin, in charge of the program, announced today.

It is a residential building at 221 South Granger street, owned by Urban Holmes. Mr. Holmes has agreed to the razing of the building.

The Teal house in the 600 block of West Parish street, another house in the program, recently was torn down.

and getting 3,500 miles at the most, now cost $12.95 and get 35,000 and even more.

The talks were evaluated by Ken Hamilton, Millard Lynch and Hinkle King.

During the first session of Monday night's program Paul Davis was Topicmaster and each member present gave short talks on various subjects given by the Topicmaster. The talks ranged from American Youth going behind the Bamboo Curtain, the current chain idea of selling bonds, future of this area as a tourist attraction, radio, cutting the armed forces to balance the budget, moving major league teams to the Pacific Coast, new nationwide dial telephone service, different types of gasoline and socialized medicine.

New Salary Schedule for City Teachers

State Minimum of $3,400 Followed;
Thurmond Resigns

In line with recent state legislation providing for a minimum of $3,400 for teachers with a degree, the Harrisburg City school board adopted a new salary schedule at an adjourned meeting Monday evening.

The new schedule provides a base increase of $100 per year, to bring the minimum in line with the new legislation, but provides further that the increase, plus annual increases which might have been received under the old salary schedule for years of service and scholastic training shall not total more than $150.

Resignation of Burdette Thurmond, director of special education for the City schools was accepted by the board.

Mr. Thurmond has accepted a situation in the same field with the University of Illinois. He will be speech and hearing consultant for the University's division of services for crippled children with headquarters at Belleville. He and his family will move to Belleville Wednesday from their residence at 602 South Webster street. He has been with the City school system for eight years.

Russell Malan, City school superintendent, stated that it is doubtful a replacement may be found so near the opening of schools on September 3, but that a majority of the special education work will be continued.

Speech correction will continue under direction of Lorene Shewmaker. The special education classes by Alta Johnson will be continued at Junior High school, the orthopedic room will operate as usual under Ruth Brockert at the Logan school and the sight saving room will continue at the McKinley school under supervision of Winifred Morris.

Employment of Larry Reed, for a situation not yet assigned, was approved by the board. Mr. Reed has been teaching in the Cottage-Rocky Branch school, which has been closed.

Name Talent Winners at SEIEC Meeting; to Elect 3 to Board

The 18th annual meeting of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-op, held at the co-op's headquarters on Route 142, Eldorado, got off to a big start Monday night.

A large crowd was in attendance to witness a fine talent contest, view the many displays and wander around the grounds that have a carnival air for the meeting.

There was an outdoor movie of cartoons for the kiddies, free pony rides, a miniature steam swing, novelty concession stand and food stands.

Winners of the talent contest were the Arvieu Brothers of West Frankfort. The three brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Arvieu, play stringed instruments and sing. They will represent the SEIEC at the REA state talent show in Springfield next month.

Donnie Hobbs, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hobbs of Golconda, won second place and Miss Pam Colbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Colbert of Ledford, was the third place winner. There were ten entrants in the contest.

Last year's winner, Miss Marietta Allen of Carrier Mills, entertained midway of the show and is still a favorite. She sang several numbers, gave a reading and answered several difficult questions on the Bible asked by Bill Plater, master of ceremonies.

The SEIEC's 18th annual meeting closes this afternoon.

This morning the co-op's business session was held. The terms of three members of the board of directors, Escot Oxford, Hardin county; Gilbert Galloway, Franklin county; Thurman White, Williamson county, expire. An election was held to fill the board but the results will not be known until later today.

This afternoon "Miss SEIEC of 1957" will be selected. The beauty contest, one of the highlights of the meeting, attracted 17 girls vying for the title of Beauty Queen of the 1957 SEIEC meeting.

Winner of the beauty contest will be awarded an engraved trophy, sash emblematic of the title and will represent the SEIEC in the REA state-wide beauty show at Springfield.

List Cross-Section of Items to Be Sold Thursday on Swap Day

Muriel Holland today listed a cross-section of items that will be brought to Harrisburg for sale on Swap Day, which will be Thursday afternoon and evening.

The list he gave, he said, consisted of only a few, but would give the public an idea of what to expect. He urged all persons not regularly engaged in selling to bring their items into town and sell them. If not sold, they can be auctioned by experienced auctioneers, free of charge, if the sellers desire.

Holland, in charge of arrangements, said that facilities will be on hand for loading and unloading throughout the day, that persons who come to sell will not have to stay all day unless they desire.

Here is a sample of what will be brought to town:
Harold Riegel, Harrisburg: Commercial fryers for deep freeze, and will have his samples

United Press diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler reported in London that the NATO pact Allies were expected to confer in Paris on this new threat to NATO and the Baghdad nations—Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Britain and Pakistan. British and American diplomats already were conferring on the new threat, but Washington dispatches indicated the administration had come to the reluctant conclusion it could do nothing because the Eisenhower Doctrine is not applicable in the Syrian case.

Kuwait in Egypt
The Cairo press meanwhile used a surprisingly mild tone toward the Western powers in urging them to adopt a "conciliatory attitude" toward the Syrian-American crisis.

The Cairo newspapers also hinted that the split between Jordan and Egypt would end soon and that Jordan would reopen its Cairo embassy on Sept. 2. The embassy was closed after Jordan accused Egypt of plotting political assassinations in Amman.

A Cairo dispatch said Kuwait was in touch with Damascus by telephone from his sickbed in the Moassat Hospital in Alexandria, but there was no confirmation of reports King Saud of Saudi Arabia would travel to Egypt for an Arab "big three" meeting with Nasser and Kuwait.

Would Hurt Effectiveness Of Sixth Fleet

NATO Allies to Confer on Threat
To Baghdad Nations

By WALTER LOGAN
Official Press Staff Correspondent
United quarters in London said today there was mounting evidence the Soviet Union intends to establish a submarine base in the Middle East as a follow up to its victory in Syria.

A Soviet submarine base in Syria, or one controlled by Russia, would outflank the Baghdad Pact powers, lessen the effectiveness of the U. S. 6th Fleet and would change the strategic picture in the Mediterranean.

The reports coincided with growing fears in the Arab world itself that the Soviets were becoming too well entrenched. Mideast reports said Syrian President Shukri El Kuwaty was being approached for a "last resort" Arab conference to try and halt the Soviet advance.

Unconfirmed rumors circulating in Beirut, Lebanon, said the Soviet was pouring in technicians and civilians to speed the "takeover" of Syria. There was no confirmation of these reports in official quarters.

NATO Allies to Confer
In Cairo the government newspaper Al Gomhuria reported Syrian officers had trained in Poland to operate two Russian submarines being turned over to Syria by the Soviet Union under their arms pact deal.

Egypt recently received three submarines from the Soviets, but Al Gomhuria noted this was not the same time of agreement reached in Moscow by Syrian Defense Minister Khaled Elazm. United Press diplomatic correspondent K. C. Thaler reported in London that the NATO pact Allies were expected to confer in Paris on this new threat to NATO and the Baghdad nations—Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Britain and Pakistan.

British and American diplomats already were conferring on the new threat, but Washington dispatches indicated the administration had come to the reluctant conclusion it could do nothing because the Eisenhower Doctrine is not applicable in the Syrian case.

What New Product Would You Desire?

CHICAGO — UP — What new product would you like? That was the question Illinois members of the Manufacturing Chemist's Association asked recently in an on-the-street survey here.

About 280 persons were asked what new products they would like to lighten household chores, and improve clothing fabrics and cosmetics. Here are some of the results:

Most of the women said that dusting was their biggest household headache, and they wanted effective dust and dirt repellents. Men decided that dishwashing was the worst task around the house and asked for something to make it easier.

Fifty-two per cent of both sexes said that truly wrinkle-proof fabrics would be the greatest improvement in clothing.

Women decided that cosmetics to remove facial wrinkles would also be the best improvement in cosmetics. Men, answering questions in this category, said that improved shaving creams, effective deodorants and men's facial depilatories were the biggest needs.

Some women requested longer-lasting perfumes, and "something to make eyes sparkle." A few men asked for hair restorers.

Both men and women wished for unbreakable door locks and windows, long-lasting metal polishes and better insect-killers.

Ex-Boxer Held For Attempt To Kill Costello

NEW YORK — AP — A former heavy-weight boxer surrendered Monday and was charged with attempted murder in the bungled attempt to assassinate former rackets czar Frank Costello.

Vincent (The Chin) Gigante, 29, a small-time gambler with a 12-year criminal record, was booked late Monday night, 10 hours after he walked into the West 54th street police station with his lawyer and casually surrendered.

Gigante, married and a father of four, had been sought since shortly after May 2, the day a lone gunman ambushed Costello as he entered the lobby of his apartment building and fired one shot, which creased the scalp of the 66-year-old underworld figure.

Police have theorized that the gunman may have been hired by rival gambling interests or by a gang seeking to depose Costello as the nation's reputed rackets king.

But the veteran gambler has insisted he is retired and has no enemies.

Cadillac

Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel.

Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac—and the time is now!

Hoffa Says He Shared Income of Truck Firm Partly Owned by Wife

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa testified today that his wife shared a seven-year profit of $125,000 as co-owner of a company which leased trucks to a firm with labor troubles.

Hoffa, prospective president of the Teamsters Union, said his wife and the wife of Bert Brennan, one of his union associates, owned the company's stock in their maiden names.

Hoffa explained these names were used, on the advice of an attorney, so that the property of the two women could not be attached in any court action growing out of a labor-management dispute in which he was involved.

The stocky, cocky, hair apparent to Dave Beck as head of the nation's largest union, told the Senate Rackets Committee "I did not set up, nor did I run, nor have the stock of Test Fleet"—the company owned by Mrs. Hoffa and Mrs. Brennan.

But he said, under questioning by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), that he and his wife pooled their income for income tax purposes and filed a joint return.

Disagrees With Edict

And although he said he did not share in Test Fleet's ownership, Hoffa testified that "as rapidly as possible" he is liquidating "that concern and my other business interests" in accordance with an edict of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

Sen. Kennedy said the policy established by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee was prompted by the issue of whether a labor leader should have an "intimate business relationship" with people "he is obliged to negotiate with over the collective bargaining table."

Hoffa had testified that the company which leased equipment from his wife's firm was covered by a standard contract with the Teamsters Union.

He made it clear that he disagrees with the AFL-CIO edict. Hoffa declared that if a union negotiator "knows the business" in which he is negotiating it puts him in "a better position to get more for your men."

He contended that his business "experience" has "saved" drivers in the Teamsters' Central States Conference from "having any strikes" and has assured them wages which are the equal of any in the industry plus "better fringe benefits."

The committee will question Hoffa about testimony that he invited racketeer Johnny Dio into the union to help set up seven bogus locals in a move to give Hoffa control of all Teamsters in New York City.

Past Brushes With Law

When he went before the senators at the outset of today's session, Hoffa said he would testify to the best of his recollection but reserved the right not to answer questions he considered outside the committee's authority to ask.

But he did not object to early questions about past brushes with the law. He said he had been "picked up" about 17 times but convicted only three times. On one occasion, he said, he returned more than $7,500 he had been accused of extorting from grocers and butchers. He did so after the charge was reduced "to a simple misdemeanor," he said.

Self Residence

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGill have sold their residence at 425 West Sloan street to Mr. and Mrs. Corby Wickham, and with Mrs. McGill's mother, Mrs. Mary LaMotte, plan to spend the winter at Clearwater, Fla. Their daughter, Mrs. Eddie New, and son, James Ed, are leaving this week for Clearwater, where James Ed will enter school.

Stratton Aide, Ed Pree, Resigns

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Governor Stratton's office announced today Edward G. Pree, patronage assistant to the governor, has resigned to return to private law practice here.

An administrative assistant to Stratton, Pree was in charge of personnel patronage under the governor's departments, boards and commissions. He was also a legal aide to the governor.

Pree has been mentioned as a possible successor to Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, if the attorney general is named to a federal judgeship.

Kills Rattlesnake

Kelly Beal, Somerset, shot and killed a large timber rattlesnake Sunday. The three foot long snake crawled up to the chicken yard and near to where the Beal children have their swing and play area. Such a commotion was set up by the chickens that the children called their father and he searched until he found and killed the snake.

Benson Says He Will Be 'Glad' To Discuss REA with Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today he would be "glad" to discuss department affairs with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).

Humphrey has threatened to subpoena Benson to testify before the Senate Reorganization subcommittee on reports that he has been exercising a veto over Rural Electrification Administration loans.

Benson said he didn't think a subpoena would be necessary.

"I've never refused to meet with any committee or to meet privately with any member of Congress," Benson told a news conference—his first since June 25.

Humphrey has been trying for several weeks to get Benson to testify before the subcommittee.

Benson returned to Washington last week after a 50-day absence.

Benson said he wrote Humphrey dated today, informing him that he would be "glad to visit with you" when REA Administrator David A. Hamil returns to Washington. Hamil is now on a field

New Home Adviser Assumes Duties

Mrs. Lady Martin Hunt of Benton, Ky., has taken up her duties as home adviser in the offices on the second floor of the Harrisburg city hall. Mrs. Hunt taught home economics at the Ziegler high school last year. She is a graduate of the Benton, Ky., high school and of the Murray State College at Murray, Ky.

Mrs. Hunt was married to Oliver Hunt Jr., on Aug. 9 and their home is in the Varsity apartments at 25 South Cherry street. Mr. Hunt is a student at SIU and is employed by the university printing service.

Gov. Knight to Seek Re-Election in California

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight will be a candidate for re-election as governor of California in 1958.

Knight formally announced his intention to run Monday, admitting it came as a surprise to no one. He is a Republican.

The chances are his opponent will be Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.). The Senate minority leader has said he will not run for re-election as senator, although he has not directly stated he will run for governor.

In a remark obviously aimed at Knowland, Knight said that the governor's office "is far too important to the welfare of the people of this state to be allowed to become a pawn in the presidential contest."

Former Assistant Superintendent of State Police Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Capt. Wilbur H. Kennedy, former assistant superintendent of the Illinois State Police, who died Monday.

A veteran of 20 years with the State police, Kennedy was a member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Beck-Approved Strike Cuts Off Milk for N. York

NEW YORK (AP)—A Teamsters' strike approved by union chief Dave Beck today cut off all but 30 per cent of the milk going to 12 million consumers in the New York metropolitan area.

About 950 members of Teamsters Local 770 walked off their jobs Monday night. The truck drivers normally carry 70 per cent of the bulk milk sent in from farms for processing and distribution to dealers.

Drivers of several other locals did not join in the strike. Local 770 agreed to deliver emergency milk supplies for hospitals and other institutions.

Harold Felix, New York City labor commissioner, said consumers would not feel the pinch of the strike until sometime Wednesday.

Late Monday night, union and dairy Transport Association negotiators agreed to resume talks Wednesday morning with federal, state and city mediators.

The walkout originally had been set for last Friday at midnight. Teamsters Vice President Thomas Hickey said the strike was approved by union President Dave Beck.

Hickey said wages are the key issue. The union demanded an 86 1/2 cent an hour package increase over a three-year period. The association offered a 50-cent boost over four years.

Ike Confers with GOP Leaders On Aid Fight

Knowland Says Only Part of Funds Will Be Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed to Republican congressional leaders today to support his fight for a full-scale $3,367,000,000 foreign aid program.

But Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland said only part of the 800 million dollars cut out of the aid appropriations bill by the House last week is likely to be restored by the Senate.

Knowland reported after a White House Republican conference that the President strongly urged efforts to make a "substantial restoration" to the House cut.

He refused to predict whether Eisenhower will be satisfied with the expected Senate compromise figure, estimated by some aid supporters at around three billion dollars.

Eisenhower's threat to call a special session of Congress this fall to seek an increased aid appropriation was not mentioned at the conference, Knowland said.

The Senate Appropriations Committee went to work on the aid money bill in closed session. It was sharply divided on whether to respond to urgent administration pleas for more aid funds.

Knowland said the committee's compromise proposal—between the House figure of $2,524,760,000 and the $3,367,000,000 earlier authorized by Congress and accepted by the administration—would be reported out late today.

The Senate is expected to vote on its version of the aid appropriation Wednesday. Knowland said the wide difference between the Senate and House figures will necessitate sending the bill to a House-Senate conference committee for compromise.

A Message From Robert S. Keltner

IT IS AMAZING HOW MANY PEOPLE offer advice that only a physician is qualified to give. They mean well but do not realize the skilled knowledge required to diagnose an illness.

"THE BUTCHER, THE BAKER, THE CANDLESTICK MAKER" are all quick to recommend some medicine that cured someone they know, Grandma — God bless her — always has a favorite remedy her grandmother used.

SOMETIMES THEY HELP, but when they don't, the delay in giving proper treatment can give a virus or an infection a foothold that is much harder to overcome.

DON'T GAMBLE WITH YOUR HEALTH. When you are sick let your physician diagnose the cause and prescribe the particular medicine that will help you most.

MORE THAN HALF of the important medicines in present day prescriptions were unknown less than five years ago. That is why you can always depend on a prescription, compounded especially for your particular ailment, to help you most.

Balloon Headed To Earth After Record Flight

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A balloon carrying an Air Force Doctor finally headed toward earth today after a record-breaking flight.

Air Force officials said Maj. David Simons "tanked his descent at 11:15 a. m. c. d. t., after more than 26 hours aloft. Simons reportedly had completed the tests and experiments in his pressurized capsule.

An Air Force spokesman said tracking crews were not certain of the area where Simons would land because weather conditions were unsteady.

"He has a lot of cloud coverage to break through yet," the spokesman said. "Any slight variation in the winds could make a considerable difference in where he lands."

Simons had soared to a record altitude for manned balloon flights during his space voyage.

Earlier today, officials ordered him to begin his descent after large cumulus clouds appeared to be shaping up to the west of his original landing area.

Simons, who hit a record altitude of more than 100,000 feet, or about 19 miles, shortly after he took off at mid-morning Monday, probably was prevented from trying to better that mark this morning.

Turbulence from a severe thunderstorm below Simons' balloon dragged him down to 68,000 feet as he drifted over Sisseton, S. D., after dawn.

"It was really spectacular to see lightning from above," Simons radioed ground observers in describing the storm. He said he was about 30,000 feet over the storm at the time.

Reuther Asks Eisenhower to Support Plan

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

DETROIT — Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president who called for a management-labor anti-inflation cut of car prices, disclosed today he has asked President Eisenhower to support the idea.

Reuther's letter to Eisenhower went out Friday with copies of the letters to Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president; Henry Ford II, Ford president, and L. L. Colbert, Chrysler president.

Reuther proposed that the big three auto firms cut prices $100 or more with 1958 models and promised the UAW would give consideration to the results in its 1958 contract terms, sharing any loss.

Some people like to argue. They are so determined to prove their point that they use evidence which is not related to the proof which they are trying to develop. Occasionally they become so anxious to be right that they invent evidence out of imagined details which appear logical, but which never existed.

Being right becomes an obsession. It becomes more important than justice, truth or reality. People who have this desire for self-righteousness do not really lie. They tell what they believe to be true. They bolster their beliefs with evidence of any kind which will support their judgment.

Let us not by-pass truth. Let us not jump at conclusions. Let us not toy with facts. If our imaginations need exercise we can put ourselves in the places of those we judge. We can discover how they feel. "Judge not that ye be not judged."

Corn Acreage Reserve Payments To Be Made Soon

The Saline County ASC office has announced that it will start making 1957 corn acreage reserve payments soon.

Herman Driskell, chairman of the County ASC Committee, said that payments will generally be made by mail as soon as possible after performance in the field and in the office is completed on individual agreements. This means that the first farms to receive payments will be those where crops are all checked, where no excess allotment crop acreage was found, and where all requirements as to location and use of the soil bank acres have been fully met.

Making payments will continue as rapidly as performance records can be completed and farmers make any adjustments which are necessary to meet the terms of their agreements.

No date has been set for making conservation reserve payments, but as soon as compliance reports can be completed the date will be announced.

"To me, too. But you got to see, ma'am, this whole town has got to see, it's not just me or you against the Clements and Cole. It's not like we're all alone. We got Harney Blanchard!"

Blanchard nodded and took Dick's hand. They walked around the house. Lillian walked to the back step and sat down. I went over and sat on the edge. It didn't look to me like Lillian was going to say anything about Cole.

She said, "You're old enough now to take care of yourself."

I grinned at her. "Been doing that for quite some time this, Pike. I understand why you want to help him. He's a man of great reputation. It must be fine to be with him. But has he told you everything that might happen?"

"I know what I'm getting into, ma'am."

"You'll have more trouble from the town, just because you're with him."

"I know."

Lillian sighed. "Maybe it's too late, anyway. Maybe you've already gone too far."

"That could be. Eric saw me with Blanchard."

"Then it's too late. Pike... are you doing this for revenge, just because the town doesn't want you to do it?"

"You hit it pretty close, ma'am."

"Maybe it's what the town deserves. What they did to you was a terrible thing. But if you... if you lose your life, who wins, you or the town?"

I felt like I'd already done a month's talking since dawn but I had to do more. "Look, Mrs. Jethroe, I got to help Blanchard. He's depending on me to do that. I don't want to get you in trouble. I appreciate all what you did for me and... well, I don't want you

I sat wondering what I could say to get Lillian on our side. If she knew Blanchard better, I thought, she'd trust him. I didn't think that the Clements wanted to tangle with Blanchard. Eric was smart. He liked the odds strong on his side, the way they were before Blanchard hit town. Maybe the odds were still good enough to suit him.

I tried to think of something else that might be bothering Lillian. I knew she depended on the town for her living. She did sewing, never lacking for customers that I could see, and I knew a lot of women came because they felt sorry for her. I'd wondered why she stayed in Blue Springs. It didn't look to me like she'd find another husband in the town. I didn't know of a man big enough to try to fill Barney Jethroe's shoes, much as they'd like to, when they knew Dan Clement had his eye on her. I knew Lillian thought it was better for Dick in Blue Springs. He was Barney's son and the town wouldn't forget it. Everything Dick did was right because he was Barney Jethroe's boy. Everything I did was wrong because I was the son of Chad Ambrose. It didn't make a whole lot of sense.

I was about ready to give up and go when Lillian turned to me. "Pike, I hope Harney Blanchard is everything you say. Dan said that Cole is coming tonight."

Excitement hopped into my throat. "On the train?"

"Probably. Cole hated to ride."

I got up, anxious to tell Blanchard. "Much obliged, ma'am. Don't you worry now."

I went around the house. Blanchard was telling Dick something about Pilot's forelegs. When he saw me, he stopped talking and slapped Dick on the rump and sent him scurrying around the house.

We went out into the street and moved east slow, leading Pilot and Goliath.

"She said Cole is coming tonight. They got to wait for him," I told him.

"She said that?"

"Sure she did. Not exactly, though. Dan doesn't tell her everything."

Blanchard tied Pilot to the rack in front of the livery. "She was married to Barney Jethroe. From what you say about Barney, that woman's got reason to want Dorsey dead."

"Women don't do that! Maybe a man but not..."

I shut up, it coming to me fast that I was shooting off my mouth. I didn't know about women. I was beginning to wonder if I even knew about Lillian.

Blanchard said, "You say she's all right, Pike. I won't forget. But don't you forget she's Barney's widow."

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Good Bass Catches at Crab Orchard

By Pete Brown
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation)
A surprise streak of good bass catches at Crab Orchard Lake has brightened the late summer fishing picture in Southern Illinois. Beauties ranging from two to eight pounds are being snagged on Bombers. Fishing is best in the evenings, when the big ones forsake the depths to feed in shallow water on points and bars.

Archie Woodrome, Mt. Vernon, used a green Bomber to hook a seven and one-half pounder. A real tough customer, the bass made three long "runs" before Woodrome could net him. Successful Carbondale fishermen at Crab Orchard include Nick Masters and son, who strung up an eight pounder, another weighing five and one-half, and several smaller ones. Harry Wright also reeled in an eight-pound prize, while Al Peithman landed several, including a five and one-half pounder, and Heber Horstman scored with one weighing better than four pounds.

At other lake areas, the water is in top-notch fishing condition, although this factor doesn't guarantee results. In fact, reports from Little Grassy, Sahara, and Moses lakes and the Eldorado Reservoir all read the same: few bass catches. At Little Grassy, however, the crappie are still biting and bluegill fishing remains fair. Channel catfish are gobbling up catpaw worms intended for bluegill at Lake Murphysboro, but fishermen aren't complaining. Catches reported during the past week include eight catfish ranging from two to five pounds by Kenneth Holley, Murphysboro; a six-pound cat and five bass averaging one and one-half pounds by F. Johnson, Millstadt; and six cat weighing up to six pounds by Sam Vitali, Murphysboro. Bluegill and redear also are being caught regularly.

Bass are hitting surface and shallow running plugs at Harrisburg, but not in great numbers. The crappie output still is lean.

Nice-sized crappie are being taken from Big Lake, located about three miles north of Old Shawneetown. Bluegill are biting on worms. Boats and cabins may be rented at the lake.

Fishermen with back-breaking strings of bluegill and crappie have been spotted along the Cache River, about a mile south of Perks. One group of anglers from Johnston City took home two sacks bulging with bluegill. The crappie, which run from eight to ten inches, are hitting best in the brushy spots, accessible only by boat. Boats may be rented here.

From Elizabethtown comes word that six-year-old Kent (Babo) Byers reeled in a nine-pound catfish from the Ohio River. And at Okawville, on Fred's Lake, Joe Haier used only one plug and one cast to bring in two bass. Each weighed a pound.

Cokes, Pankey's, McKinley Baptist Win in Kiwanis

Coca-Cola defeated Skaggs Drugs, 21-13, Pankey's Bakery downed Galatia, 6-1, and McKinley Baptist beat Stain's Tin Shop, 15-7, in Kiwanis league baseball games played Monday.

Schnierle blasted two home runs and a single to lead Coca-Cola to a 21-13 win over Skaggs. Summers and Gibbons had two hits and Darrar, Stunson, Bergen, Reed, Nolen and Wasson had single hits for the winners. C. Meadows and Owens had two hits for the losers and Eyraud and Rose hit safely once. Stunson was the winning pitcher.

Yarber hurled a no-hitter as Pankey's topped Galatia, 6-1. The pitching gem was far from perfect with two fielder's choices, a base on error, and 11 walks collected by Galatia. For the winners at bat R. Hutchison had three hits, D. Hutchison had two and Yarber, Logan and Karnes picked up single safeties. Boyett was charged with the pitching loss.

Hefner and Pavelonis combined to pitch a four-hitter for McKinley in defeating Stain's, 15-7. Pavelonis struck out two, walked three and hit three, and Hefner fanned two and walked none. Wasson led the winners' offense with a double and two singles, Nelson tripled and singled, and Hefner singled twice. Mitchell had two hits and Furlong and Pickford had one each for Stain's.

Yanks, Braves 'In', According To Oddsmakers

By United Press
The Yankees and Braves are "in," according to the oddsmakers, and that's the same feeling Casey Stengel and Fred Haney shared today although they both made the traditional "anything-can-happen-yet" speech just to hedge a bit.

Stengel's Yankees have a 7½-game lead with only 37 games left to play as they launch their final Western trip tonight with a game against their Kansas City cousins.

The quotation on the world champions is "out" and 10-1. That means if you want to bet they will win the American League pennant, you're out of luck, but if you want to bet they won't, you can get 10-1 odds.

Milwaukee, with a 6½-game lead and 37 games remaining, starts its last big road trip of the year with a game against the Pirates tonight. And if you think the Braves won't win, the National League flag, there's 7-1 odds waiting for you.

Apparently, neither Stengel nor Haney is worrying unduly about "blowing" the pennant in the next 40 days.

"This thing ain't over yet," said the ever-cautious Stengel, "even though I gotta say we look in good shape. If we can get through this trip with a pretty good lead, I think we'll be all right."

On the Milwaukee side of the ledger, Haney pooh-poohed the idea that the Braves' three weekend losses to the second-place St. Louis Cardinals was the beginning of a "nosedive."

"It was just a natural let-down after winning 10 in a row, declared the Milwaukee skipper. "I think we can bounce right back. This is a good ball club that's confident it can go all the way."

Kansas City defeated Cleveland, 1-0, on Tom Gorman's four-hit pitching in the only major league game scheduled Monday.

The Athletics scored the only run of the game in the sixth inning off Ray Narleski when Bob Cerv singled, stole second and came home on Tim Thompson's single. The victory was Gorman's third of the season while Narleski suffered his third loss against nine victories.

Gino Cimoli's 11th-inning double gave the Dodgers a 2-1 victory over the International League All-Stars at Montreal. Held hitless over the first six innings, tied the score in the eighth and went on to win the game in the 11th on Cimoli's hit which scored Junior Gilliam. Southpaw Sandy Koufax was the winner in relief.

Physical Exams for Athletes at HTHS Thursday Morning

Physical examinations for all boys who will go out for athletics at Harrisburg Township high school this year will be given at 7 a. m. Thursday in Davenport gym, Lawrence Caluffetti, head football coach, announced today.

He also announced that football equipment will be given out to juniors and seniors Thursday afternoon and to freshmen and sophomores Friday afternoon at Davenport gym.

First football practice will be at 8 a. m. Monday, Aug. 26.

Promoter Needs Patterson-Rademacher Cooperation to Make Money from Film

SEATTLE, Wash. — The critics scoffed and the experts ridiculed the Floyd Patterson-Pete Rademacher world's "open" heavyweight boxing championship here Thursday—but promoter Jack Hurley sat back to laugh today.

"We'll have a 25,000 crowd — largest ever drawn west of the Mississippi," said Hurley. "And we expect that the gate will be upward of $400,000."

That means that the 22 backers from Georgia who put up $250,000 will get most of their money back. Getting 60 per cent of the gate they needed something like $416,000 to break even.

But they will make their money for Youth Unlimited, Inc., from the exclusive rights to films from the bout. For the first time in 36 years here will be no radio broadcast or televising of a heavyweight championship bout.

Of course, to make any money off the films, Youth Unlimited is going to have to get some cooperation from the principals in the fight.

Rademacher, the Olympic champion, is going to have to stick around for four or five rounds to make the film saleable; or Patterson is going to have to "feel out" his giant opponent for a few rounds without throwing that famed knockout punch.
